

The Internal Revenue Service

The IRS continues to create outreach materials to address people's questions about coronavirus-related tax relief and Economic Impact Payments. In particular, IRS has worked to expand materials for partner groups including an updated Economic Impact Payments and Coronavirus Tax Relief Partner Toolkit, now available in Spanish, and a variety of other print and visual items.

This week's outreach bundle includes links to our updated Partner Toolkit, as well as materials on Economic Impact Payments, the Get My Payment tool and employer credits. IRS has also partnered with the Federal Trade Commission and the Better Business Bureau to get the word out about scams related to Economic Impact Payments through informative videos available in this bundle in both English and Spanish.

Please share and adapt these materials for your communications, including emails, newsletters, websites and other channels. We need your help in sharing these important outreach materials with your families, friends, partners and clients.
